DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

1. Claims 20-35, drawn to a method of suppression or inhibition of allergen-specific IgE production by administering Interferon-tau, classified in class 514, subclass 2.
2. Claims 20-35, drawn to a method of suppression or inhibition of allergen-specific IgE production by administering chimeric Interferon-tau, classified in class 514, subclass 2.

The inventions are distinct from one another with explanations as follows:

Inventions 1 and 2 are each unrelated to one another. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together. Furthermore, the inventions are directed to methods that use different molecules. The method invention 1 uses Interferon-tau whereas the method of invention 2 uses chimeric Interferon-tau. Chimeric Interferon-tau is structurally, and possibly functionally, different from unmodified Interferon-tau.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their separate search requirement based on particular aspects of the inventions, e.g. invention 1 uses Interferon-tau and invention 2 uses chimeric Interferon-tau, it would impose a serious burden on the Examiner and USPTO resources to search the inventions together.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: routes of administration

- A) oral
- B) parenteral
- C) subcutaneous
- D) intravenous

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1, for example, is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: allergic conditions

- E) rhinitis
- F) atopic dermatitis
- G) bronchial asthma
- H) food allergy

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 23, for example, is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention and an election of species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143). Applicant is required to elect invention 1 or 2 and a species from A-D and E-H to be considered fully responsive.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
